Russian Reply On Plane Incident Pleases Dulles

Segni Gets Nod To Try To Form Italian Cabinet

ROME, June 26 (AP)—Antonio Segni, a scholarly, reform-minded left-center Christian Democrat, was asked tonight to try to form a new government as Italy's seventh postwar premier.

The charge was handed the 64-year-old political veteran by Giovanni Gronchi, Italy's new president.

Segni was asked to hold talks with political groups and to report back Thursday whether formation of a government under his premiership is possible.

Segni Defers Decision

He did not formally accept the charge at once. He emerged from a conference of more than one hour with the President to say he "deemed it appropriate" to investigate the situation further before taking on the task officially.

Segni will start his interviews tomorrow, asking leaders of political parties in Italy's divided Parliament what their attitude would be to a government led by him.

Father of Italy's land reform program and a slightly left-center member of the Christian Democrats, Segni is expected to probe the possibility of forming a new four-party government.

Party Revolt Upset Segni

Such a center coalition held Christian Democrat Mario Scelba in office for 16 months, before he was forced out last Wednesday by a revolt in the Christian Democrat party.

Some of his allies had begun to shy from the four-party coalition and a strong right-wing element in his own party wanted to abandon it in favor of an all-Christian Democrat Cabinet.

Byrd Pledges Social Security Senate Hearings

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) said today the Senate Finance Committee will not act on any proposed changes in social security benefits without full hearings.

"We are certainly going to have full hearings on this matter," he said. "The Finance Committee isn't going to act hastily."

Byrd's statement in an interview threw cold water on hopes of Democratic leaders to push through the present session of Congress a bill to expand aid for widows and disabled persons.

Republicans demanded, but didn't get, public hearings by the House Ways and Means Committee which has been working in closed sessions on a bill Democratic leaders expect to move through that branch.

Unless Byrd relents, however, Senate hearings could consume so much time that Democratic leaders might be forced to choose between giving up their July 30 adjournment goal and letting any House-passed bill go over until the 1956 election-year session.

President Catches Salmon And Trout

PARMACHENESE LAKE, Maine, June 26 (AP)—A delighted President Eisenhower today caught two salmon—one an 18-inch weighing about two pounds—and a mess of trout in this wilderness area near the Canadian border.

The President spent about six hours fishing the Magalloway River at Little Boy Falls and Rump Pond near his isolated island retreat at Parmachenee Lake.

TESTIFIES ON REDS — Mrs. Stella Andrassy, writer-lecturer and former Swedish countess, tells the Senate internal security subcommittee that 91 1/2 per cent of U. S. Communists are "foreigners or foreign-born" and that 34 U. S. foreign language newspapers follow the Communist line.

Congress Seen Shelving Polio Vaccine Issues

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Chances appeared dim today for pushing polio vaccine legislation, including federal funds for inoculation of needy children, onto the "must" list for this session of Congress.

The same applies to financial aid for school construction.

Either subject, of course, could be pushed to final action by a change of signals. But the priority agenda already is jammed with other matters. And some lawmakers already are concerned that any one of a half-dozen "blockbuster" issues could blow up present plans to adjourn Congress by August 1.

May Be Middle Of August

Leaders still are shooting for that adjournment goal but are cautioning their colleagues not to make any arrangements along that line. They fear it may be closer to the middle of August before Congress is able to quit for the year.

Still on the "must" list are such controversial items as military manpower, military and atomic construction projects, housing, extension of the draft law, minimum wages, foreign aid, highway construction and broadening of the social security program.

Some members want to add polio vaccine control and school construction assistance.

Ike Seeks Inoculation Fund

President Eisenhower has asked an appropriation of 35 million dollars to make sure no child is denied polio vaccine for lack of money. Some Democrats have urged a much broader and more costly program to provide free injections for everyone up to 19 years of age.

A number of Democrats also have demanded federal controls over distribution of Salk vaccine. Eisenhower and Secretary of Welfare Affairs have argued results will be much better under the present system of voluntary controls.

Pilot Seriously Hurt In Navy Jet Crash

PATUXENT NAVAL AIR TEST CENTER, Md., June 26 (AP)—A Navy jet plane en route from North Carolina to New York crashed near North East, Md., yesterday, seriously injuring the pilot.

Officers here said Marine Capt. Irwin Fehr of Paramus, N.J., suffered a fractured left leg and abrasions of the face in the Cecil County crash.

ADA Urges Ike To Replace Welfare Secretary Hobby

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action today charged Secretary of Welfare Affairs with "fantastic fumbling" of the polio vaccine program and called on President Eisenhower to fire her.

"The inefficiency of Mrs. Hobby's administration is equalled only by its inhumanity," declared ADA Chairman Joseph L. Rauh Jr.

Note Of Regret Ends Possible Parley Threat

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today he is gratified at Russia's official expression of regret over the shooting of an American plane between Siberia and Alaska last Wednesday.

The conciliatory tone of statements by Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov apparently ended any danger that the aerial incident might in some manner disrupt plans for the Big Four conference at Geneva July 18.

Dulles spoke to reporters upon his arrival here by plane. Shortly afterward, the State Department released the text of a note which Molotov handed him yesterday in San Francisco, where they attended preliminary Big Four talks and a United Nations 10th anniversary meeting.

Conflicting Versions

The note insisted that the United States Navy Neptune patrol plane had "violated the state's frontier of the Soviet Union in the region of the Bering Straits" and that this was the reason for the shooting. The United States has insisted the plane was over international waters when Russian MIG jet fighters attacked without provocation.

Another difference developed over the shooting itself. The Soviet note referred to "an exchange of shots between the American and Soviet aircrafts." U. S. spokesmen have said the Navy plane did not return the Russian fire.

Soviet Reaction Is Surprise

Nevertheless, the Soviet note also contained at the end these paragraphs which officials said were virtually unprecedented in their conciliatory and even apologetic tone:

"The Soviet government expresses regret in regard to the incident which has taken place.

"Taking into account that the incident with the American military aircraft took place under conditions which do not exclude the possibilities of a mistake from one side or the other (a reference to cloudy weather), the Soviet government declares its willingness to compensate for 50 per cent of the damage suffered by the American side, having in mind that the remaining 50 per cent of damage would be undertaken by the American side."

Ike Congratulates Helen Keller, 75

PARAMACHENESE LAKE, Maine, June 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower has sent his best wishes to blind, deaf Helen Keller on her 75th birthday tomorrow.

"Please accept my warm congratulations on your forthcoming 75th birthday," he said in the letter, which was disclosed today by his fishing camp headquarters here.

Eight Persons Hurt In Bus-Car Crash

FREDERICK, June 26 (AP)—Eight persons were injured, one critically, late Saturday night when a Greyhound bus skidded at the crest of Braddock Mountain, five miles west of here, and collided with a car.

State Trooper Robert Storrer charged Donald H. Helsey of Duncannon, Pa., the bus driver, with failing to keep to the right of the center lane on U.S. 40.

Mrs. Grace M. Adams of Seat Pleasant, Md., a passenger, was thrown through the windshield of the bus. She was in critical condition in a Frederick hospital today with what attendants described as a fractured skull, broken arm and multiple body injuries.

ADA Urges Ike To Replace Welfare Secretary Hobby

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action today charged Secretary of Welfare Affairs with "fantastic fumbling" of the polio vaccine program and called on President Eisenhower to fire her.

"The inefficiency of Mrs. Hobby's administration is equalled only by its inhumanity," declared ADA Chairman Joseph L. Rauh Jr.

Mrs. Hobby was not available immediately for comment.

Hoover Group Asks Defense Dept. Overhaul

Creation Of Agency To Buy Commercial Items Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The Hoover Commission proposed today an overhaul of the Defense Department's business operations which it estimated could save up to two billion dollars a year.

The commission endorsed a task force report which proposed creating a new, single agency within the department to do all buying of commercial type items (as distinguished from arms) for the fighting forces.

This proposal was a "fourth service" of supply—almost paralleling the existing combat services of the Army, Navy and Air Force—has been advanced periodically by various individuals and groups.

Opposition Produced

As before, it produced some immediate opposition. Some members of the 11-man Commission on Government Reorganization, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, raised questions or formally dissented. They quoted President Eisenhower as having objected to such a plan when he was an Army general.

The task force committee headed by Charles R. Hook, Middletown, Ohio, steel firm executive, also recommended amendment of a law which compels businessmen taking high government jobs to divest themselves of stock holdings. And it called for a pay increase for assistant secretaries of defense.

The report said:

Wilson Sold GM Stock

"Conflict of interest laws should be reviewed for the purpose of simplification and clarification; having an appointee take an oath not to participate in decisions involving his company or financial interest should make the divestment of ownership in companies unnecessary."

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, former president of General Motors Corp., reportedly disposed of about five million dollars worth of GM stock before the Senate would agree to his Cabinet appointment.

Accord To End Greyhound Bus Strike Reached

CHARLESTON, W.Va., June 26 (AP)—Federal mediators said tonight that a tentative agreement has been reached in the 82-day-old strike of Atlantic Greyhound bus drivers.

Mediators Joseph Wright and C. Harry Young said the contract agreement which the "parties are now starting to reduce to writing" is subject to ratification by the union membership in the 10-state area effected by the strike.

The mediator's statement, issued with the consent of company and union officials, said that the AFL Motor Coach Employees union will schedule meetings soon to hold a membership vote on the entire contract.

They said the "contents will not be made available until after the union and its officers have met with the membership." The statement added:

"The union's committee will recommend unanimous acceptance of the contract."

Inland Steel's Wage Hike Offer Rejected

PITTSBURGH, June 26 (AP)—Inland Steel Co. today offered the CIO United Steel Workers an average 10 1/2 cent hourly wage increase. The union quickly rejected it.

The offer by Inland roughly equaled the one made earlier by U.S. Steel Corp., the industry's traditional pacesetter in wage and contract talks.

Inland's offer, the company estimated, amounted to an average hourly increase of 10 1/2 cents an hour. It started at the same 6 1/2 cents for job class No. 1 and stepped one-half cent between job classes to a top of 23 1/2 cents for job class 35.

Amnesty For Refugees

VIENNA, Austria, June 26 (AP)—Romania's National Assembly has approved a law providing for a large scale amnesty for Romanian refugees in foreign countries, Radio Bucharest said today. Refugees who are not guilty of high treason, espionage or crimes will be pardoned if they return to their home country by Aug. 23, 1956, the law specifies.

Death Car For Family Of Five

A New York family of five was killed in this auto when it crashed into the rear of a truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Pittsburgh. Killed were Abraham Kowalski; his brother, Benjamin; Benjamin's wife, Beatrice, and their two children, Judy, 11, and Deborah, 4 months, all of the Bronx, N. Y. State police said Benjamin was driving and apparently fell asleep.

Wheat Farmers Vote Continued Strict Controls

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Wheat farmers have voted to continue present rigid controls on their crop next year rather than gamble on the possibility that Congress might enact a substitute program that would please them more.

In a referendum yesterday, growers of this major crop gave a surprising majority of 77.5 per cent to a proposal that strict federal marketing quotas be used again in 1956 to try to avoid additional surpluses.

Closer Contest Expected

Farm leaders in and out of government had expected a much closer contest, with a chance that controls would fail to win the necessary two-thirds majority. Doubt as to the outcome had developed in the face of official suggestions that the government would offer a new wheat-aid program if quotas were rejected.

The unofficial vote in the 36 major wheat-producing states where the Department of Agriculture conducted the referendum was 254,197 for marketing quotas and 73,832 against. In a similar election a year ago, farmers voted 208,623 for and 76,923 against quotas for the 1955 crop, a 73.3 per cent majority.

55 Million Acres Involved

Under the approved program, the government will apportion 55 million acres among individual farms for production of wheat. In general, each farm's marketing quota will be the quantity of wheat grown on its share of the national planting allotment. The total is the same as this year's but about 30 million acres less than that planted in peak postwar years.

School Integration Leading Objective, Nixon Tells NAACP

ATLANTIC CITY, June 26 (AP)—Vice President Nixon told the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People today that "completion of the integration of the public school systems" should be among the most important objectives of the future.

Nixon, who arrived here from Washington in President Eisenhower's twin-engine plane shortly before 3 p.m., told the 46th annual convention of the NAACP on the school integration question:

"Reaching this objective will not only provide true equality of opportunity for education, but it is the most effective way to eliminate prejudices which otherwise might continue to exist between Americans of different backgrounds."

In extending greetings from President Eisenhower, Nixon said that it was under his administration that "the greatest progress since 1865 has been made toward the objective to which this organization (NAACP) is dedicated."

'Harmonica King' Minnevitich Dies

PARIS, June 26 (AP)—Borrah Minnevitich, America's "king of the harmonica," died today of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 32.

Minnevitich, who played on vaudeville stages and in night clubs during the Thirties and early Forties, was stricken in his automobile while driving with his wife of three weeks, the former Lucille Little Taylor. He died in the American Hospital in suburban Neuilly.

Minnevitich's act, which he formed with 60 children, popularized the harmonica throughout the world. The act was called the "Harmonica Rascals."

South Viet Nam Slowly Solving Its Difficulties

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, June 26 (AP)—South Viet Nam is making heartening progress in the face of diplomatic and military difficulties, but is still plagued with vital internal political problems.

Military operations against dissident politico-military sects are nearing the mop-up stage today with success in view and Premier Ngo Dinh Diem confident.

Diplomatic relations with France are improving. The bitterness which followed the bloody rebel outbreaks in the capital is subsiding.

Informed officials say French Premier Edgar Faure has advised Viet Nam he is agreeable to written conventions to govern the disposition of the French expeditionary corps here. Viet Nam considers this imperative.

This will go far to quiet Viet Nam fears that French military men here might collaborate with opponents of the Diem government.

The Vietnamese have also asked that future contacts with France be conducted through the French Foreign Office, rather than the Ministry for Associated States, which the Vietnamese regard as a colonial hangover.

Planes Collide, Five Die

Two Of Four Men Survive Ordeal On Mojave Desert

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif., June 26 (AP)—The grim story of a searing two-day ordeal on the Mojave Desert that cost the lives of two men was told today by one of two survivors.

Real estate developer Chester Buner, 67, from his hospital bed, recounted how a surveying trip that was "just going to take half a day" turned into a desperate battle against heat and thirst after their jeep broke down.

"It was the worst thing I've been through in 20 years on the desert," said Bunker, one of the founders of Twentynine Palms and other communities in this area, 120 miles east of Los Angeles.

Triple Slaying Probers Seek Husky Airman

DICKINSON, Tex., June 26 (AP)—Police were seeking a 190-pound airman today for questioning in the slaying of three members of a prominent Dickinson family.

Deputies said the airman, who was seen with Mrs. Ruby C. McPherson at a restaurant Wednesday night, is believed to have stolen the 44-year-old woman's automobile and started for California.

Newspapers Not Taken In

The bodies of Mrs. McPherson, her son, George, 12, and mother, Mrs. Zola Norman, about 65, were found last night in their three-bedroom home when neighbors became suspicious.

Morning papers for Thursday, Friday and Saturday were on the large lawn at the home, which is on an eight-acre plot near Dickinson Bayou about 35 miles southeast of Houston and 15 miles northwest of Galveston.

No Evidence Of Sex Crime

Texas Ranger Johnny Klevenhagen said there was no evidence of a sex crime. He said it is possible all three were asleep when killed late Wednesday or early Thursday.

Two waitresses told investigators Mrs. McPherson and the airman appeared at a restaurant Wednesday night. They said the dead woman introduced the airman as a friend of her son, Jack, who recently was discharged from military service.

Investigators quoted both Jack and the father as saying they did not know the airman.

Algerian Violence Has Cost 500 Lives

PARIS, June 26 (AP)—Nationalist violence touched off by rebel bands in Algeria seven months ago has cost more than 500 lives and the end is not in sight, French officials said today.

Another 300 have been wounded since the flareup started last November, a report from the office of the governor general in Constantine said. Most of the fighting has been in the desolate Aures Mountains of southeast Algeria.

Among the dead were 122 Frenchmen or pro-French Algerians. Losses to French forces but air maneuvers near here today. At least five of the bomber's crew of six were killed. The lone American jet pilot bailed out, suffering slight injuries.

By "we" Bunker meant himself and Lyle W. Robertson, 49, hardware store owner and rancher, who were rescued by air observers Friday.

Thirst and exposure claimed their two companions, Calvert Wilson, 49, prominent Southern California Democratic politician, and James R. Thompson, 75, retired Joshua Tree businessman.

Bunker told a reporter that Thompson died Thursday after 2,400 feet below ground at the Nordstern diggings today.

Session Ends With 4-Point Declaration

Difficulties Great But Charter Guide, Van Kleffens Says

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—In the same ornate San Francisco Opera House where the United Nations Charter was signed 10 years ago, the world organization today ended its commemorative session with the pronouncement of a four-point declaration of rededication to the cause of world peace.

In a summation of the week-long activities, one that may become known as "The San Francisco Declaration," Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, U.N. General Assembly president, said the 60 member nations have reaffirmed their common determination to:

End war, rededicate themselves to the principles of the Charter, settle international disputes by peaceful means, and work for a real disarmament plan.

U.N. Charter Is Guide

"The difficulties before us are as evident as the dangers and disappointments of the past," the lean Dutch diplomat said "but we have the Charter as our guide, the Charter which prescribes that the United Nations shall be used as a center for harmonizing the actions of the member states."

The commemorative session here was originally called solely to observe the 10th anniversary of the founding of the United Nations. In the main, the daily sessions during the past week followed the prescribed routine: speeches by representatives of each of the 60 member nations, outlining in fact and hope the past, present and future of the world organization.

The meeting took on more significance, however, when President Eisenhower agreed to make the opening address, and the Big Four foreign ministers took the rostrum to speak for their countries.

Opening Round For Parley

A Western source described the Big Four speeches as a sort of an opening round for the summit meeting at Geneva next month. The chiefs of state of France, England, the United States and Russia are expected to go to the meeting with programs outlined here.

Russia's V. M. Molotov may have had the same thing in mind when he told a news conference yesterday, "I feel that the San Francisco meeting has achieved positive results in view of the various talks and contacts that have been established."

It was announced today that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld will be in Geneva to supervise personally U.N. arrangements for the summit meeting.

Silliman Evans, Publisher, Dies

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 26 (AP)—Silliman Evans, 61, president-publisher of the Nashville Tennessean and a key figure in the national Democratic party, died here last night of a heart attack.

Evans passed away in his sleep, several hours after attending the funeral of Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and a lifelong friend. Carter died Thursday.

After dining with friends last night, Evans complained of feeling tired and went to his room in the Fort Worth Club. His body was found at 6:30 a.m. by O. M. Mozier, a vice president of American Airlines with whom he was to return to Nashville today.

A physician, Dr. M. H. Crabb said the publisher died in his sleep several hours earlier. Evans had suffered several heart attacks in the past several years, the most recent about a month ago.

PORTLAND, England, June 26 (AP)—Salvage workers today recovered the bodies of all 13 seamen who went down with the submarine Sidos 10 days ago in Portland harbor after an explosion.

The inside of the submarine was a mass of wreckage with most of the damage in the forepart but navy engineers said the Sidos could be made shipshape again. The sub has been raised and towed onto the beach while the investigation into cause of the explosion that sank her is still under way.

14 Ruhr Miners Killed

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany, June 26 (AP)—Fourteen Ruhr coal miners were killed in an explosion 2,400 feet below ground at the Nordstern diggings today.

New Shrine Club Opened At Burlington

Cumberland Man Named Manager

KEYSER—The "Old Stone House," on U. S. Route 50, which was a residence and a stage coach "stop" on the old macadam road when Route 50 was the "Northwestern Turnpike" from east to west, was formally dedicated by the Upper Potomac Shrine Club of Keyser, as official meeting place of the Shrine, Masons and Shriners from the northern part of West Virginia were there Saturday to share in the program in which members of the club, wives and visitors participated in a social hour at 7 p. m., a dinner at 8 p. m., and dancing that followed.

After dinner, Dr. Thomas Bess, president of the club, took the part of toastmaster, and he reviewed the history of the Keyser club, and the work that officers and members have done in making the old and historical landmark a Shrine meeting place. He introduced visitors and heads of departments in the changes in the "look" of the old landmark. They are Carl Gustkey, past potentate of Osiris Temple, Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine, Wheeling, of which the Upper Potomac Shrine Club is a part; C. E. Gustkey, Kingwood, father of the past potentate and member of Osiris Temple; Senator Ralph Bean, Moorefield, member; Dana G. Lough, coach at Potomac State College.

The club building has a large basement floor which is to be used for general club activities and recreation. It has not been completed, but, when finished, is expected to be one of the largest and best equipped in this part of the state.

On the second floor is the large dining hall and dance hall, with many large modern windows, and with the kitchens off the large room. The kitchen is a large, modernly equipped part of the building, and immediately accessible to the dining hall. On one side of this room, there is a raised dais for use of an orchestra and wings on either side to accommodate any meeting where Shrine and Masonic dignitaries may sit at special meetings, each fronted by a modern ornamental fencing all of which adds to the general appearance of the room.

Off this part of the building there are other rooms, both large, all equipped as needed for smaller meetings, offices, etc.

George Lieb, Cumberland, and his wife have been employed as manager and assistant. Mr. Lieb formerly was manager of the cafeteria at the Celanese Corporation plant at Cumberland, and prior to that he held other similar posts. He is qualified to handle large crowds, similar to that on the opening night. On the third floor of the building is a five-room apartment for use of the manager and his wife.

When introducing the guests at the opening night dinner, Dr. Bess called on David Arnold, a Mason for 50 years, and believed to be the oldest member of the Masonic bodies in this part of the state and probably the oldest Mason in the state. Prior to the destruction of his home about a year and a half ago by fire, his home was the oldest in this mountain area and along the old Turnpike.

He was living there at the time the slaves were freed by President Lincoln, and often spoke of his family slaves departing from the large home owned by his parents, and walking eastward along the Turnpike "toward freedom."

Mr. Arnold has spoken often of that day, when they were permitted to cook a big meal for themselves over the old fireplace in the dining room and after finishing the meal, they "tidied" the dining room and departed to a new life. He said he and his brothers and sisters and mother, stood on the highway and watched the former slaves walking eastward, turning back often to look at the home.

Mr. Arnold's memory has been exceptionally good about events of his past, and several stories of him, his past life and his home have been used in the Cumberland Times-News papers.

He was born in that house and lived there for more than 90 years. He is now building a new bungalow style house on the old homestead, in which to spend his remaining years.

2,207 Dogs Inoculated Against Rabies

Mineral County Project Continues

KEYSER—Oscar Gustafson, vocational instructor at the Keyser High School, and one of the two men, including Harrell Smith, of Potomac State Farm Agricultural program, who were appointed to conduct the vaccination program for dogs against rabies, are near the end of the project. Gustafson said yesterday that the two men vaccinated 2,207 dogs in Mineral County to the end of the past week.

They had used the original supply of vaccine in this year's inoculation program, and had to order more during the week.

The two men have two more communities to visit before the travelling campaign in the county is completed. They will be in Elk Garden today and at Cross on Tuesday. Dog owners are expected to bring their dogs to the public schools at those places between 4 and 8 p. m. for vaccinations.

Gustafson said that it is very likely there are dogs in the county that have not been vaccinated, and he has offered to give inoculations if the dog owners bring their dogs, on Wednesday, of this week to Potomac State Farm, where he will care for them anytime between 1 and 8 p. m. He also said that any persons desiring to contact him about vaccination of their dogs may call him at Keyser 42224 for appointments.

When the work at the Elk Garden and Cross schools is completed this week, all other cases must be made by appointment, with the exception of the program referred to for Wednesday.

Reporting Earnings For SS Coverage Is Simplified

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fifth in a series of articles prepared to help acquaint farmers and farm families with their rights and benefits under the Social Security program.

In the past articles, the general coverage provisions of the self-employed farmer and those working as employees on farms has been described. In today's article how farm earnings for social security purposes are determined and reported, is discussed.

The self-employed farmer determines his net earnings for Social Security purposes in much the same manner as the business man has been doing for the past four years. However, the farmer has a simplified manner of reporting with two options available to him to determine his net income for social security purposes. This does not change the manner or method that the farmer reports his income for income tax purposes, and the option can be used only for social security purposes.

Low-income farmers, those who report their income tax on a cash basis, and whose gross income is $1800 or less, have the choice of reporting their actual net earnings, after taking all deductions allowed by law necessary in the operation of their farm, or reporting one-half of the gross income. Either the net or one-half the gross must be $400 or more.

Farmers whose gross income is over $1800, must determine their actual net earnings. If these net earnings are less than $900, then the farmer can report either the actual net earnings, or $900, whichever he prefers.

The Cumberland Social Security Office will send, free upon request, the informative booklet called "Facts for Farm Families." This pamphlet should be in the hands of every farmer, as well as every farm employee. It describes how he can determine his net earnings from his farm operations under the new social security amendments, as well as a table showing estimated benefits, how to report his farm employees, tells how he qualifies for benefits, and gives the Social Security tax rates. The plaintiff claims that the suit is a civil action arising under the law that was enacted to protect trade and commerce against restraints and monopolies.

The declaration points out Sack is engaged in the business of selling and dealing in cash registers, adding machines and various other business machines in interstate commerce, and also repairing and servicing these machines.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

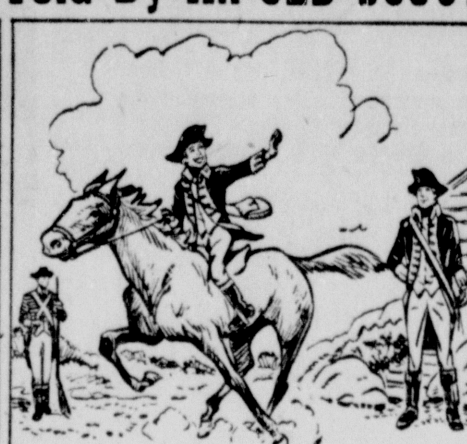

When Davy Crockett wanted advice on a matter of his nation's business he went direct to the top --- to President Andrew Jackson --- Old Hickory, himself --- for Jackson, like Crockett, was a straight shooter from the hills of Tennessee.

Now Andy Jackson's parents were hard-working Irish farm folk from County Antrim and they had taken ship from the Old Country in hopes of bettering their fortune in the New World. That was a mighty long time ago, back in 1765.

Andy was born two years later but he never laid eyes on his father, that brave pioneer having just passed on. So Andy had to be reared without a father's guiding hand but he was a loyal son to his mother, though a trifle reckless.

It's never been settled whether Andy was born in North Carolina or in South Carolina, that land being then in dispute. However, he was a true blue American. When only 13 he joined the Continental Army in the war for American independence.

NEXT--Andy Jackson, boy soldier in the Revolutionary war.

Nothing equals the flattery of feminine and fragile pink.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Be a charmer and real cool in pink. Fashion sees you in the pink for summer, and well she might, as its flattery casts a rosy glow on all who wear it—from six to sixty. Wearing this feminine color is a secret that clever women have known through the ages.

Little girls evoke the ecstatic "Doesn't she look like a doll?" All other fashionable femmes dressed in their way, too, in more sophisticated versions.

Pinks make blondes look dainty; brunettes, vibrant; and give gray and white-haired grandmothers a younger and fragile quality. There's even been a fashion editing of pink for redheads.

A one-color costume in pink couldn't be more charming for this summer. And, although red may seem to be a strange bed-fellow for pink, it's very chic to wear them together. Try a narrow red leather belt on a pink linen sheath, or tie a gay red scarf around the neckline of a pink shirt. Or, carry a rosy hanky with your pink chiffon dress at the country club.

Not only is pink impartial in its compliments, but it is universal in its appeal. It all started when Mrs. Eisenhower chose a pink gown for the Inaugural Ball. From then on it was "First Lady Pink." The president's wife allowed the Textile Color Card Association the privilege of promoting this color, a mauve pink of delicate but definite tonality—very much like the inside of a sea shell.

Reports Of Trouble From Dictatorships

Anyone who reads the news these days finds startling contrasts between the free and the controlled nations. There are reports of trouble from almost every quarter of the globe today where dictatorships are in control.

In South America, the Peron regime in Argentina has successfully weathered a serious rebellion. But Argentina, rent by both political warfare and a conflict between church and state, will be an unhappy land for some time to come.

In Asia, Radio Peiping has reported an attempt to overthrow the Communist regime and restore the monarchy in Red China. This rebellion follows closely on the heels of reports of a serious famine in China.

In Europe, there is a fresh sign that the agricultural crisis in Russia is still serious. Nikita S. Khrushchev, who was in charge of the 1950 program for consolidating Soviet collective farms, has now suggested publicly that many of the collectives—put together over the heavy opposition of the farmers—are too large and unwieldy and should be broken up.

What is happening in the meantime in what Russia calls "the degenerate capitalistic nations" and which according to Marxist doctrine must inevitably fall into decay?

The United States, the leading capitalist nation, is enjoying a tremendous boom with more people employed and more goods pouring out of its factories than ever before. Its only serious agricultural problem is the unwieldy surpluses which its farms have produced. Britain, under Conservative leadership, is enjoying a new prosperity. While East Germany languishes under Red rule, West Germany, under the leadership of private enterprise, thrives.

United Nations Charter

In the case of Rice v. Sioux City Memorial Park Cemetery, Inc., et al., the question again arose as to the relationship of the United Nations Charter to American federal and state laws. Justice Felix Frankfurter delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court.

This case concerned the refusal of a cemetery to permit the burial of a Winnebago Indian under a contract which contained the clause, "burial privileges accrue only to members of the Caucasian race."

The discussion in this article does not concern itself with the moral or social correctness of the conduct of the owners of the cemetery; it limits itself to the political effects of the United Nations Charter upon the United States.

The plaintiff raised the issue that the action of the cemetery owners was a violation of the Charter of the United Nations. Justice Felix Frankfurter said of this: "... There was reference in the opinions of the Iowa courts and in the briefs of counsel to the United Nations Charter. The Iowa courts dismissed summarily the claim that some of the general and hortatory language of this treaty, which so far as the United States is concerned is itself an exercise of the treaty-making power under the Constitution, constituted a limitation on the rights of the states and of persons otherwise reserved to them under the Constitution. It is a redundancy to add that there is, of course, no basis for any inference that the division of this court reflected any diversity of opinion on this question."

The United Nations Charter is a treaty between the United States and 59 other nations who are members of that body. Under our law, a treaty is the law of the land, not passed by Congress in the usual manner, but negotiated by the executive, signed by the President and confirmed by two-thirds of the Senate present. Such a treaty then supersedes any federal or state laws, no matter how ancient. In a California case, the charter was employed to vitiate a law which had been in existence for some 30 years.

The Charter of the United Nations, as a treaty, will continue to be used by lawyers for the benefit of their clients, until an amendment to the Constitution alters the relationship between the charter and domestic law, or the charter more emphatically is made to state that it cannot be applied to domestic law. The Bricker and George Amendments are examples of what legislators are trying to do about this.

During my recent visit to England, I made inquiries concerning this subject and found that they operate under a system that is something like the Bricker Amendment. A treaty with them is not the law of the land. If a treaty is to have the effect of domestic legislation, Parliament has to do the legislating. The British Charter (1215), of long tradition, going back to Magna Carta (1215), of jealousy over its prerogatives and suspicion of the executive. Because of historic circumstances, particularly the importation of the sovereign from continental Europe, Parliament actually captured the control of the executive, so that every member of the cabinet is first a member of Parliament. The sovereign does not possess such administrative power as the President of the United States. The cabinet is a captive of the Parliament.

If a treaty between Great Britain and another country were to be made to apply as the lawyers propose in the case of Rice v. Sioux City, etc., Parliament would have to pass a law on the subject before it could apply. The law—the treaty—would be debated in the House of Commons and the House of Lords and the debate would be published in the press for all to read if they are interested. The executive cannot make British law by a treaty.

I cite this example because the opposition to any amendment to the Constitution on this subject bases itself upon the rather silly notion that it demonstrates a lack of confidence in a particular president. The law is long; presidents come and go. Amendments to the Constitution ought not to be evaded lest the sensibilities of a public official be bruised thereby. Were that the case, it would be impossible ever to amend the Constitution. One was even adopted limiting the term of the President.

Looks Like The Old Girl's Here

World May Be Entering New Industrial Revolution

By Roger W. Babson

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Since President Eisenhower's great address at Pennsylvania State University, I have been much more hopeful of the years ahead. This world may be entering a new industrial revolution commensurate with the two previous great industrial revolutions of a century and more ago.

Great Industrial Revolutions

The first was based upon the invention of printing by movable type, upon the development of education combined with Bible reading, and upon the discovery of America. Thus, the three great men of that day were Gutenberg, John Rogers (my ancestor), and Columbus. The second industrial revolution was due to the harnessing of steam and steel, the development of democracy, and the building of railroads and steamships. Thus, the three great men of the time were Watt, Washington, and Stephenson.

My purpose this week is to impress upon readers that future history may show we are now entering a third great industrial revolution. This could come from the harnessing of uranium, the development of labor unions accompanied by the redistribution of property, and the possibilities of aviation. The three men responsible for these developments were Einstein, Roosevelt and the Wright Brothers. The first two industrial revolutions, with the exception of the discoveries of Columbus, were largely confined to nations and bounded by national lines.

Airplanes Making Great Changes

Let me state that any third revolution will know no national boundaries, but must be a world revolution. For instance, uranium is found everywhere and can be used anywhere; the masses all over the world are demanding, property, education, and opportunity; while airplanes, telephones, and television know no boundaries. They are reducing the size of the world to the size of an average country a generation ago. Today I call London by telephone as freely as I called New York a few years ago. Members of my organization are lunching with me today; and they are having breakfast in London tomorrow morning. Furthermore, the difficulties of communicating with the people of other nations, which handicapped the two previous industrial revolutions, have been eliminated by radio and television.

The stock market, of course, will have bad breaks. Then will be the time to buy more of the stocks which will profit from this new industrial revolution. The main purpose of this week's column is to get you to become world conscious and to recognize the great possibilities ahead. Some look upon advances in electricity as bringing on a new era; but no, electricity is simply a new method of distributing power already manufactured by coal, oil or gravity. This same applies to electronics and many other inventions which people are going crazy about. Actually, these are based on the use of a new power; material, spiritual, political, or a combination of all, as "Billy" Graham is preaching.

How To Lose Money

All kinds of speculative promotions followed the inventions of Watt, Stephenson, and especially Columbus. Hundreds of new companies were formed and floated to

That's why we never get excited over charges of inefficiency, dishonesty, malfeasance, kumshaw and incorporated indifference. We always did prefer corruption to extravagance if it was more economical.

Everything goes overboard like frightened frogs. The old rascals go out and the new rascals come in.

But that's freedom, equality and justice to all. It may not be cricket but what is?

The English run their governments politely and neatly. Everybody's honest because there's no place to hide.

We don't claim the Republicans like being accused of inefficiency, malfeasance, corruption, venality, bungling and nepotism. We do know they would like to enjoy four more years of it.

Many Drugs Capable Of Reducing Arterial Spasm

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Virtually every person with high blood pressure, on making periodic visits to his physician, is anxious to learn the readings. He is somewhat relieved when his pressure is down and disappointed when it goes up. The majority of hypertensives do not realize that the height of the pressure is not as important as what an elevated pressure is doing to the body.

These secondary effects represent the serious aspects of the condition. If, for example, the heart is forced to overwork, the organ tends to enlarge so that it can deliver the goods.

Moreover, increased tension leads to thickening of the arteries which means they harden more rapidly than ordinarily. As a result, circulation is curtailed and when a vital area such as the heart or kidneys is involved, complications are bound to occur.

For this reason, the physician examines the patient with high blood pressure thoroughly. He wants to know how the heart and kidneys are faring under the strain and whether the blood vessels in the brain are getting harder.

In the past, once such changes took place, they were considered progressive and permanent. We now know that this is not true and that the process will reverse itself if the cause of hypertension can be corrected. This is precisely what has happened in many individuals who are using the new anti-hypertension drugs.

These products act upon the source of the trouble: spasm of the arteries. All the arteries of the body are involved simultaneously in hypertension and the effect is the same as though these pipe-like blood vessels had been replaced with a set half as large in diameter. This narrowing forces the heart to double its pressure to push the blood throughout the system.

When spasm is relieved, pressure drops and the secondary effects disappear. The electrocardiogram shows less evidence of strain and, now and then, returns to normal. Kidney function also improves.

Many drugs are capable of reducing arterial spasm. Hexamethonium and hydralazine produce the most marked effects but, unless

Rockefeller Fortune "Threatened" In Aerial Penny-Ante Poker Game

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Nelson Rockefeller, whose family is one of the wealthiest in America, was playing penny-ante poker on the President's special plane en route to San Francisco. In the game with him were Congressmen Miller, Democrat of Oakland, Cal., Mailiard, Republican of San Francisco, Younger of Ohio, and Scudder of California, also Republicans.

When the trip was over, Rockefeller was down seven dollars to his congressional friends.

Remarkable Harold Stassen, also with the presidential party: "I am going to watch the stock market tomorrow morning. Nelson will probably have to dump a lot of stocks on the market to pay for his losses."

Russell Long Deserts Father

Sen. Russell Long, Democrat of Louisiana, did his best to defeat his fellow Democrats during bitter closed-door meeting of the Senate Public Works Committee when it voted last week on the one remaining big undeveloped power site in the United States, Hell's Canyon.

With all other easily developed power sites already built, Hell's Canyon on the Snake River is of crucial importance to Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The Eisenhower administration has favored its development by the Idaho Power Company. The Democrats, with the exception of Russell Long, have favored development by the government, on the ground that rivers and works of nature belong to the people not private power companies.

Russell Long, whose father, the late kingfish of Louisiana, battled against the power companies, has strangely voted with the power companies. When the Dixon-Yates project was up for debate last summer, Long astounded his colleagues by casting his vote against the Democrats and with the power lobby.

When the secret meeting of the Senate Interior Committee opened last week, Long at first sat silent. Six Republicans bitterly denounced government operation of Hell's Canyon—including Millikin of Colorado, Watkins of Utah, Dworshak of Idaho, Barrett of Wyoming. The only Republican who did not take a definite stand was Kuchel of California. Though he spoke on the subject, he did not definitely commit himself.

All the Democrats present urged that Hell's Canyon be developed by the government, except Long. He sat grim and silent. Finally, with Senator Murray of Montana absent in Geneva attending the International Labor Conference, Acting Chairman Anderson of New Mexico pulled out a letter from Murray asking that the vote be postponed until his return. Anderson knew that a vote that day would mean a victory for the Idaho Power Company.

It was at this point that Senator Long finally jumped in to oppose his fellow Democrats. Knowing that the Republicans had a one-vote margin, counting his, Long urged that the vote be taken immediately, that they not wait for Senator Murray to return.

Senator Dworshak, Republican of Idaho, did likewise. However, they were overruled. Final vote on the last remaining big dam site was postponed for about a week.

Inside The Pentagon

Here is the inside reason why Operation Alert was scheduled to test civil defense at the very time when the West is about to talk peace with Russia. The whole exercise was deliberately timed to build up public support in favor of the talks with Russia. The President and his advisers believed the spectacle of thousands of government officials evacuating Washington to avoid a make-believe hydrogen attack would demonstrate the wisdom of trying to avoid a horrible new war by talks around the conference table. The exercise was originally scheduled to take place last year as part of "Operation Candor." Secretary of Health Oveta Culp Hobby prepared to "rough it" during the H-bomb evacuation test by going without her nylon stockings. However, she wore a pair of immaculate white gloves. The first atomic aircraft engine will be completed in 10 months. It won't be ready to install in a plane that early, but it will be ready for ground tests. America's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus, will soon cross the Atlantic entirely under water. It won't surface once, its speed—over 25 miles an hour. For a long time the military have wanted to run their own spy work instead of pooling it all under Alleg Dulles and Central Intelligence. Now the National Security Council has ordered Central Intelligence to transfer some of its intelligence functions to the Joint Chiefs of Staff. In fact, the 'joint Chiefs have already assigned five super-secret officers to direct the new intelligence work.

Sorry for the error. William Kern has been appointed to the Federal Trade Commission, replacing veteran Commissioner Jim Mead, Democrat. The law requires that the post go to a Democrat. But—Kern was recommended and sponsored for the job by Douglas Whitlock, former assistant to the Republican national chairman. The Air Force's retired Gen. George Stratemyer, hero of the McCarthyites, recently praised the anti-Semitic writings of Dr. John Beatty, professor of English at Southern Methodist University. Dr. Beatty's writings have already been repudiated by the university. The Western diplomatic colony is hopping mad at Marshal Tito for suddenly trebling and quadrupling Yugoslav rents. This has turned Belgrade into probably the most expensive city in the world and has so infuriated some countries that they are threatening to close down their embassies.

The Zwicky Case

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

The Department of Defense has now suspended the security clearance of Dr. Fritz Zwicky, professor of astrophysics at the California Institute of Technology.

The security of the United States has been triumphantly safe-guarded, by depriving the United States of the services of one of the world leaders in the vital fields of astrophysics and rocket propulsion. Thus, Dr. Zwicky's suspension again raises the question whether the so-called security program is not really an insecurity program.

This is not a new question, of course; but it is a much more acute question than most people suppose. To name one other really lurid example, the eager flatfeet came within a hairsbreadth of lifting the security clearance of the President's personal scientific adviser, the great president of Cal Tech, Dr. Lee DuBridge. The decision to deprive Dr. DuBridge of clearance was in fact tentatively made in the Pentagon some months ago.

Stopped By Quarries

The charges against Dr. DuBridge were the usual insubstantial, unsupported, poison pen letter stuff. But the flatfeet might have had their way, if the assistant secretary of defense in charge of research and development, Donald Quarles, had not grimly warned that every other scientist would automatically leave the government service along with Dr. DuBridge.

The idiotic harassment of Dr. DuBridge, the shocking injustice done to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer the suspension of Dr. Zwicky, form what the flatfeet like to call a pattern.

In the case of Dr. Zwicky, his Swiss citizenship seems to be the main charge against him. In giving notice of the suspension of Dr. Zwicky's clearance, the Defense Department flatfeet indicated that the case would be instantly reopened if the astrophysicist would open if the astrophysicist would just take out his American first papers. Dr. Zwicky, meanwhile, has an extremely cogent reason for not requesting American citizenship, which he expressed to his reporter with some vigor by telephone from the West Coast.

"I would apply for American citizenship tomorrow," he said, "if you did not now have two classes of citizens. If you are a naturalized citizen, you are a second class citizen. My friend Prof. Herman Weyl, the great mathematician, became an American citizen without studying the class rules. So his citizenship was taken away because he went to Zurich to lecture, and stayed abroad too long. If I am myre free as a Swiss than as an American, I stay Swiss."

Serious Matter

Such, then, is the nature of the deadlock between the American government and Dr. Zwicky. From the viewpoint of the national interest, this deadlock is a rather serious matter.

A deadly, unseen race is now going on between this country and the Soviet Union, to get there first with the best guided missiles. In winning this race, and especially in the development of the crucial missiles of intercontinental range, no fields of knowledge are more important than astrophysics and rocket propulsion. And Dr. Zwicky is not only one of the tiny group of world leaders in these abstruse fields; he has also proved his value to the government by important services already rendered.

His contributions to defense projects began in 1943, when he organized the research department of the Aerojet Corporation, the largest American company exclusively engaged in rocket development and manufacture. Most rocket projects are still classified so that no results of Dr. Zwicky's work can be pointed to except the jet assisted take-off device that was so important to our carrier aviation in the last war. But Aerojet officials state that Dr. Zwicky's contributions have been "very great," and he was formally classified as an "essential" scientist until his clearance was suspended.

But, of course, Adm. Lewis L. Strauss established the rule in the Oppenheimer case that neither past services nor present usefulness are to be considered in weighing the "security" of our public servants. Of course, the dangerous old American habit of welcoming men of learning to these shores has been properly abandoned. Of course, Gen. Leslie Groves and the other leaders of the Manhattan District Project, who used scores of foreign scientists to make the atomic bomb, were nothing but a lot of pinkos who were definitely soft on the great security issue.

To be sure, as Gen. Groves has testified, America would never have been first with the atomic bomb if Dr. Niels Bohr and all the other foreigners had not joined the project. To be sure, the research and development chiefs of the Defense Department are now engaged in a rather desperate effort to recruit foreign scientists for work in this country. But practical considerations must be forgotten, and America's proudest traditions must naturally be trampled upon, when the thing at stake is this wonderful new security of ours.

Wellersburg Wins Over Zihlman 14-Inning Battle, 2-0

Ronnie Cage's 2-Run Double Decides Game

Grantsville Bags 5th Shutout Win; Trio Tied For Lead In Pen-Mar

Zihlman 3	Hyndman 3
Wellersburg 3	Eckhart 3
Mc Savage 3	Barrelville 3

Ronnie Cage's two-run double in the top of the 14th inning broke up a pitching duel between Bobby Dawson and Ronnie Rice and gave Wellersburg a 2-0 decision over Zihlman in a Pen-Mar Baseball League thriller yesterday at Zihlman.

Wellersburg's victory coupled with Grantsville's 4-0 win over Hyndman resulted in a three-way tie for the league leadership, involving Grantsville, Zihlman and Wellersburg.

In the contest at Zihlman, Joe Conroy walked to open the 14th and after "Pete" Deremer singled for his first hit of the game, Cage lined a two-bagger to the left field fence to score the only runs in the longest league game of the 48 played in the circuit this season. The game was played in 2 hours, 45 minutes.

Rice, Beall High pitching ace, faced only 44 Wellersburg batsmen in the 14 innings, and struck out 11. He yielded only three hits, two coming in the final stanza. Dawson, former Allegheny High twirler, fanned seven and gave up 10 hits. "Bubbles" Thompson rapped a double and two singles for the losers. It was Bobby's third straight win of the campaign.

Post 5th Shutout Win
Don O'Haver, Grantsville southpaw, kept six hits well spaced and whiffed four in twirling Grantsville to its fifth shutout triumph of the season at the expense of Hyndman. Two of the kalsomine guys are credited to Danny Culien while Don Miller and Don Hansel registered the others.

A three-run outburst decided the issue in the fifth frame after two out. Jack Mort walked, "Sonny" Drew singled and "Woody" Woodson's base hit produced the first run. Junior Perry's hit scored Drew and Bill See doubled to send Woodson across the platter.

Joe Wenger collected three singles, Mort hit safely twice and See banged a two-bagger for Grantsville. Two of Hyndman's six safeties were doubles by Cliff Clites and Jim Leydig. Kirchner went the distance for Hyndman, yielded 10 hits, fanned four and walked one.

Savage Wins, 6-3
Scoring three runs in the second inning, repeating the performance in eighth, Manager Frank Urbas' Savage Old Germans took the measure of the Farmers at Flintstone to the tune of 6-3.

Norman Geatz scattered nine hits, whiffed six and issued one pass in notching his second win against a single loss. Puffenberger, who was supplanted by Marshall Fletcher in the 8th, took the loss.

Bob Cassidy garnered two hits and Urbas larruped a double for the Old G's while Dwight Morris and Danny Bible had two bingles each for Flintstone. The latter handled 16 chances at first base without a slipup.

Kauffman Hurls 3-Hitter
Jack Kauffman snapped Barrelville's four-game losing streak by twirling the Bombers to an 8-1 win over Eckhart. He turned in a three-hit performance and fanned seven for his third triumph against two setbacks. Jack Skidmore sparked the Bombers 11-hit attack with four hits, a triple, double and two singles, while Andy Felker obtained two of the three safeties yielded by Kauffman. Clarence Felker, who went the distance for Eckhart, struck out four and suffered his fourth straight loss. Scores:

Phils Lose Twice To Cincinnati Redlegs

CINCINNATI, June 26 (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs grabbed a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Phillies today, 16-5 and 5-0, utilizing 17 hits in the first game and the shutout pitching of Art Fowler in the second.

Extra-base hits, including home runs by Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell and Stan Palys, featured the initial contest. Klus's 23rd roundtripper of the season tied with the Brooklyn Dodgers' Duke Snider for the lead in the National League home run derby.

Phil Drake Wins

PARIS, June 26 (AP)—Phil Drake of France, winner of this year's British Epsom Derby, won the $57,000 Grand Prix de Paris — Europe's richest race for three year old colts and fillies today in record time.

Second was Bewitched and third, Beau Prince II.

Phil Drake, owned by Madame Suzy Volterra, won by two lengths before 100,000 spectators at Longchamps. Phil Drake's time for the one mile and seven furlongs was 3 minutes, 8.32 seconds — a new record. The old mark of 3:10.60 was set in 1926 by Takemy Tip.

Boston Defeats Chicago Twice

Nixon, Jensen Star In 5-2 And 8-2 Wins

Chicago 8	2 White Sox 2

BOSTON, June 26 (AP)—Boston swept a doubleheader from second-place Chicago today, 5-2 and 8-2, with pitcher Willard Nixon's three-run double settling the first contest and a 12-hit barrage on four White Sox hurlers deciding the second.

Nixon won his own game with the two-bagger off loser Virgil Trucks in the seventh inning with the bases loaded and the score 2-2. Jackie Jensen drove in his 15th home run—a two-run clout in the eighth—and a single. That ran his RBI total to 55. The twin defeats ended a five-game winning streak for Chicago and ruined the White Sox chances of gaining ground on the league-leading New York Yankees.

Mack, Grove, Foxx See A's Take Pair

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—Connie Mack's eyes sparkled today as he watched the Kansas City Athletics and three players in particular—Alex Kellner, Gus Zernial and Hector Lopez—sweep a doubleheader from the cellar-mired Baltimore Orioles, 1-0 and 5-2.

Lefty Kellner pitched a one-hitter in the opener that made him recalled to the mind of Mack the days of Lefty Grove and his Philadelphia Athletics of 1929-31.

In the first inning of the second game, Zernial homered into the left field bleachers. Lopez followed four innings later with a homer into the right field stands. And Mack must have recalled the towering blows of Jimmie Foxx.

Both Grove and Foxx were with him in the stands and helped him pay tribute between games to another old Athletics' great, Franklin (Home Run) Baker from Maryland's Eastern Shore. Baker was named early this year to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

Cards Take Pair

ST. LOUIS, June 26 (AP)—Bill Virdon drove in six runs with a single, two doubles, a triple and a homer today as the St. Louis Cardinals flashed an extra-base attack to defeat the defending world champion New York Giants twice, 9-2 and 7-2, for the Redbirds first doubleheader victory of the season.

A Busch Stadium crowd of 29,127 largest of the St. Louis season, saw Harvey Haddix coast to his fifth victory compared with eight defeats in the twinnib opener. Johnny Antonelli, troubled New York southpaw ace, suffered his ninth setback against six triumphs.

Wynn Cops 1st, 5-0; Ford's 2-0 Triumph Ups New York Lead

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—The largest crowd of the major league season—66,511 paying customers—saw Cleveland and New York exchange shutouts today in splitting a doubleheader. Whitey Ford turned back the Indians 2-0 on four hits in the nightcap after the Yankees had been blanked 5-0 on three hits by Early Wynn in the opener.

The split not only gave the Yankees the series, three games to one, but increased their first-place bulge over second-place Chicago to three games as a result of the White Sox double loss in Boston.

Ford experienced only two shaky innings as he posted his ninth triumph of the year and his fourth shutout. Two walks and Al Smith's double filled the bases with one out for Cleveland in the first, but Ford retired Ralph Kiner on an infield pop and made Larry Doby fly out.

The Indians threatened again in the seventh when Doby walked with one out, George Strickland singled and both runners advanced on Hank Bauer's boggle. After Jim Hegan was purposely passed to load the bases, pinch-hitter Hank Majeski flied to Bauer in shallow right and Doby was cut down at the plate on an accurate throw by the right fielder.

Contract Bridge

by Josephine Culbertson

SLAM DOUBLES

PLAYERS who don't mind doubling slam contracts when they see a "pretty sure" that they have no tricks, had better give more attention to the mathematics of ideas.

It was a good idea for South to run to six notrump—the six-spade contract would have had no chance.

Suppose you don't double, and you defeat the slam one trick. You collect 50 or 100 points (according to the vulnerability). Your cashness has cost you from out 1100 to about 1900 points—and all so that you might have under 50 or 100 points!

It is rather obvious that this is a sound investment—as West discovered in this deal.

West had the K-5 of spades and the high heart. The last club made East discard a spade to keep his diamond. South thereupon discarded the diamond and it was West's turn to be squeezed. He had to keep the

Baltimore Man Heads Moose Association

Salisbury Gets Next Convention

The 22nd annual Maryland Moose Association convention closed a three-day session here yesterday with the election of officers, a series of reports and resolutions, and a luncheon for the new state heads.

Wilfred L. Spencer of Baltimore, who had served as chairman of the Moose Endowment Fund, was elected state president to succeed William R. Carscaden, local attorney.

Fred Tanner of Dundalk was elected first vice president and the second vice presidency went to William Nichols of Hagerstown.

Sam Canatella of Baltimore was re-elected secretary. Also re-elected were Walter Komorowski, civic affairs chairman; and Thomas Matthews, ritual chairman.

Salisbury was selected as the site of the 1956 convention, and the association's Mid-Winter Conference in January will be held at Hagerstown. Both of these lodges made strong and successful bids for the annual and mid-winter sessions. Hagerstown sent a drum corps here to publicize that community and Salisbury delegates distributed folders and other literature in their bid for the conclave.

1,000 Visitors

There were registered for the convention a total of 285 delegates, plus almost as many alternates. With the Women of the Moose also in session, it was conservatively estimated that close to 1,000 visitors were in the city for the convention.

Headquarters for the conclave were the Fort Cumberland Hotel and the Moose Home on Beall Street.

At Saturday night's session, honoring Carscaden the president, the banquet speaker was Sen. J. Glenn Beall, a member of Frostburg lodge. Sen. Beall said, "Today, men must quickly apprehend that, as a condition of survival, they must learn to love their fellowmen and serve them."

He followed that declaration with an emphasis on the fact that men "must prevent or heal at all costs, such deadly sores on the body politic as human misery, human want and human frustration, in the eternal search for liberty and bread."

Comments Moose

The Senator outlined some of the work that the Maryland Association is doing, with regard to providing scholarships for underprivileged children, to the University of Maryland.

The Child City, near Aurora, Illinois, maintained by the Moose, was described and cited as a monument to fraternalism.

Said Beall, "Perhaps the world is becoming more aware of the powers of fraternalism."

President Dwight Eisenhower's statement in his recent address as a commemorative session of the United Nations was referred to by the speaker, in which he said, "The heartfelt longing of countless millions for abundance and justice and peace seem to be commanding everywhere, a response from their governments."

Senator Beall remarked, "Those are fraternal words well spoken."

The audience was reminded that Congress has become a bit more fraternally inclined.

The necessity for the presence of these fraternal qualities was emphasized as attributes which "form a way of life that leads to health, happiness and peace."

New British Flags Fly Over Model Of Ft. Cumberland

A new set of British flags is flying over the model of old Fort Cumberland at Bicentennial Headquarters opposite City Hall.

The tiny flags were sent to Col. F. Egerton Powell, Bicentennial chairman, by G. N. C. Swift, clerk of the peace and of the county council of the County of Cumberland, England.

Swift told Col. Powell he had hoped to forward the flags earlier, but that it was necessary to have them "specially made in order that they should be correct historically."

The new standards have been placed on the model of the fort which was built to scale by CCC boys for the city's Sesquicentennial celebration in 1937.

Moose Ceremonies

Torchlight Parade Slated By Brothers Of The Brush

The Brothers of the Brush will stage a torchlight parade here tonight in preparation for the first session of its Kangaroo Kourt.

The bearded brothers will march off from Bicentennial Headquarters at 8:15 p. m., parade through the business area and then go to Riverside Park.

There they will hold a brief ceremony at the new Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge, committing to the deep a six-foot-long razor.

Following the committal service, the Brothers of the Brush will proceed to Baltimore and South Liberty streets, where the Kangaroo Kourt will convene at 8:45 p. m.

To the court, Kangaroo Kops will bring men who have violated the laws of the Brothers of the Brush. Violators will be tried by "most unmerciful judges" appointed by the bearded clan, and sentences will vary from the "royal ball and chain" for minor offenses to a dunking in "ye public bathtub" for flagrant violators.

A softball game will be played by the Baltimore Avenue group against the Down in the Valley Chapter of the Brothers of the Brush on Stitches Field at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Scouts attending from this area were Jerry Huff, Mt. Savage, who was general chairman from Potomac Council; James Wilcox, Keyser, W.Va., chairman of the physical arrangements committee; Richard Nace, Oakland, chairman of the discussion group committee; Alton Forney Jr., Luke, chairman of the ceremonies and activities committee, and Karl Taschenberger Jr., Cumberland, chairman of the publicity and speakers committee.

Adult leaders attending were David G. Nuzum, Keyser, W.Va., chairman of New Creek District, who served as adult general co-chairman; William L. McCullough of Frostburg, adult co-chairman of physical arrangements; and Wilbert Sifton of Cumberland, New Potomac Council field executive.

A total of 325 scouts and scouters attended the Region 3 conference, which included several discussion sessions, panel programs, and talks by scout leaders.

The area explorers plan to hold a similar program here this fall based on information they picked up at the Bucknell conference.

Suit Is Settled For $192 Damages

A suit for damages resulting from an automobile mishap was settled in Allegany County Circuit Court last week for $192.20.

The suit was filed by Attorney William H. Geppert for Walter Gilis Foote, an infant, by James Foote and Blanche Rebecca Foote, his parents and next friend, against Paul Edward Miller.

The suit said Miller was driving a car which struck the youngster as he was crossing Route 36 in Lonaconing, June 12, resulting in injuries and medical expenses.

Girl Scouts End First Week At Camp Potomac

The first week of activity at Girl Scout Camp closed yesterday with a tour of the camp, exhibits of arts and crafts and campercraft projects, and demonstration of camping skills. First-week campers checked out between 1:30 and 2 p. m. and new campers began to arrive between 2 p. m. and 4 p. m. for the second week of established camp. The girls are encamped at Camp Potomac, near Oldtown.

Miss Olive Hurlbut, Cumberland Council scout executive and camp director, said emphasis has been placed upon campercraft, arts and crafts, nature study, swimming, boating, archery, cook-outs, sports, campfires and singing.

Mrs. John McGuire, a Red Cross water safety instructor, has had charge of swimming classes. Intermediate scouts have been working on swimming merit badges in addition to their regular classes. Boating and canoeing classes are conducted by Miss Verina Davis and Charles Crowe.

Each of the six units comprising the camp has cooked at least three meals over an open fire in the outdoors and some have alternated cooking breakfast and lunch.

Brooke Bodkin, forest supervisor for the State Department of Forests and Parks conducted a fire drill at the camp on Thursday morning. The entire camp of 122 people assembled in the various units, received orders and evacuated to the lakeside in a record time of six minutes. Bodkin said this was an excellent record.

Pointers on fire safety and methods of fighting fire including the use of Indian pumps, were given by Bodkin, William Slider and Thomas Dixon.

Enrollment this week is expected to equal last week's mark.

Social Security Announces New Visit Schedule

James E. Robertson, district manager of the Social Security office in Cumberland, announced yesterday that due to the increased work in the counties serviced by the Cumberland office it is necessary to revise the travel schedule for the Cumberland office.

Beginning July 1 the Cumberland office will send a representative to the various counties on an increased visit schedule.

A representative from the office will meet the public in Oakland each Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the Employment Service Office.

On the first and third Wednesdays of each month the representative will be in Moorefield at 1 p. m. at the Court House. The second and fourth Wednesdays he will be in Petersburg at 1 p. m. at the Court House. The first and third Thursdays he will be in Romney at 1 p. m. at the Court House Annex.

The second and fourth Thursdays the traveler will be at the Court House in Franklin at 9 a. m., and on each Friday he will be at the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court in Keyser at 1 p. m.

All persons who reside in these areas are urged to take advantage of the visit to their community and, particularly, Robertson pointed out, those persons interested in securing information on the newly covered groups or the disability freeze program should contact the field representative.

The firm expects to begin staking off the site for the $124,000 building today, and to begin construction work tomorrow.

The new barracks, designed to provide facilities for 21 troopers and four civilian employees, is to be located on Route 40, opposite LaVale Baptist Church.

The Hoover Commission recommendation which would reduce the number of veterans' hospitals was opposed by the VFW. The convention also voted its opposition to the recommendations of the House committee headed by Rep. Hardy (D-Va) which would combine veterans' benefits with the social security program.

A resolution calling on Baltimore City to make Friendship International Airport available to a unit of the Air National Guard was approved, and the group reaffirmed its stand in favor of a bonus for Maryland veterans.

Today's Sermonette

For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ. II Cor. 4:6.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday at First Church of the Nazarene by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Heckert. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

The Face Of Jesus Christ

By REV. H. E. HECKERT

The self-same power which spoke the universe into existence, and out of the darkness and chaos of the abyss brought light and life and beauty, is the same power which is required to speak life into a soul dead in trespasses and sins, and restore it again to the beauty of holiness. This power is not merely the diffused light which overspreads the natural world; it is Christ, and from His face shines forth to illuminate a sin-darkened world.

The face is the medium of the soul's expression. Its depths are revealed in the eyes, and its light is portrayed in the countenance. Here are manifested the inward affections of love or hatred, joy or sorrow, grief or anger, ecstasy or agony, suffering or triumph. In Jesus Christ a new humanity was wrought out, created in righteousness and true holiness; and this new humanity revealed itself in the countenance of our Lord.

Christ's face was first of all a loving face. Love in some true sense is the highest attribute of God. God is love. It was the lovelight in the face of Jesus that drew instinctively the children to Him. It was this magnetic attraction of boundless and infinite love which captivated the children and made possible the salvation of the fallen.

City Reports Progress On Sewage Plant

Piping Being Laid For Treatment Unit

Work on Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant is progressing satisfactorily, Mayor Roy W. Eves reported yesterday.

He said the report of the city's project engineer for the week ending June 17 showed that the Moyer Brothers Company removed mud washed in by recent storms from the subgrade of the secondary digestion tank and on June 14 poured the bottom slab of the unit, using 140 cubic yards of concrete.

The Altoona contractor also completed forming and made the second pour on the first primary clarifier, using 48 yards of concrete.

Form work on the second digestion tank walls was started, and steel walls for the unit placed.

Mayor Eves said grading was progressing on the bottom slab of the primary digestion tank.

Lay Plant Piping

Workers were beginning to excavate and lay 24-inch cast iron piping for the plant.

In a previous report, it was noted that the levees which will protect the big plant from Potomac River floods had been virtually completed.

The big job, which got under way on a site off Offutt Street early this spring, calls for the installation of interceptor sewers, which will gather sewage from existing mains, a pumping station at Evitts Creek and a force main to bring the collected sewage to the plant.

The main building on 19-acre site will house a main pumping station, offices, laboratory and chlorinators.

Is Soil Conditioner

Sewage will go into grit removal chambers and put through comminators which will shred larger solids. Grit will be taken out of the sewage in grit removal chambers and disposed of.

The shredded sewage, minus grit, will then go into primary clarifiers which remove solids. Liquids will be routed to chlorinators for treatment before being discharged into the river.

From the primary clarifiers, solids are to be pumped into two-stage digestion tanks, where the sludge will be digested by bacterial action.

It will then be drawn off into drying beds. The dried sludge can be used as a soil conditioner.

Flood Control Job Progresses

Preliminary work on the current phase of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection program is progressing.

The contractor, the E. J. Albrecht Company, has removed brush and stumps from levee area in the Western Maryland Railway yards and last week began excavating an inspection trench for the levee.

When a satisfactory base is reached, the contractor will begin placing a core of impervious material which will form the heart of the levee.

In East Ridgeley, the contractor has cleared an area to make space for a haulway for the big earth-moving equipment which will be used to build the big earth banks which will protect the area from Potomac River floods.

The firm has also begun channel excavation on Smith Island and has completed the causeway from the island to the West Virginia side of the river near the corporate limits of Ridgeley.

Late last week, the firm began to clear the area downstream of Smith Island on the Cumberland side.
